HAINBUCH America names new sales representative

Dwight Smith to join sales team for the gear industry

HAINBUCH America is pleased to announce that Dwight Smith of Cole Mfg. Systems, Inc., has been awarded a contract to represent HAINBUCH America Workholding Solutions in the Great Lakes and Northeastern region of the United States. He will serve gear manufacturing customers in Minnesota, Wisconsin, Indiana, Michigan, Northern Ohio, Pennsylvania, New York, and New Jersey.

Smith brings a wide range of experience in gear manufacturing, workholding, metrology, analysis, and project management that will offer customers a unique resource for investment considerations. He has also been developing and presenting the Gear Basic training sessions throughout North America since 1989. Smith also serves as chairman of the AGMA handbook committee, and is an instructor for the Basic Gear School for AGMA. His company, Cole Mfg. Systems, Inc., represents complementary gear-related equipment manufacturers.

HAINBUCH America welcomes Smith and looks forward to the knowledge and experience he will offer its customers as part of its sales team. He can be reached at 734-516-1365 or dsmith@colemfgsystems.com. Go online to [www.colemfgsystems.com]. Contact HAINBUCH at www.hainbuch.com.
